

Need Advice Now?

We have highly trained professional Agents standing by between 9am and 6pm eastern standard time. Call 1-866-699-2623.

Real advice can be hard to come by, the most valuable information we can provide to you is that a business plan is required to apply for different financial assistance and we have the most complete example for you to write your own regardless of your business or ideas.

Needing advice is why we are in business. Aiding you in obtaining financial assistance is our goal. Our Agents can be reached 24 hours a day via our Email Enquiry.

Before you go after the money, outline the mission of your project. Most funding sources will require a detailed outline of the problem your project addresses, how you plan to address it and what resources will be needed.

With help and advice from The Centre we can determine which strategy will give your business the better return of investment.

Make sure you take into account the time and effort you'll have to put into each grant application you submit. Some businesses pretty much run on grants, so the application process is accepted as a necessary ongoing cost of marketing. Other companies might come up with the same money faster by just getting out there and making sales. Don't forget that these financial assistance's are available on deadlines and quotas.
